

H. Blair

We have been using Duratherm in our hot oil systems since 2003. Since then, our oxidation problems have disappeared and we have had no issues of any kind with these fluids. You manufacture products that perform exactly as advertised, which is not always the case in the marketplace.