

Josh McCastle

You were able to make exactly what we were looking for. We now have a food grade silicone oil that works well in our calibration oil baths. I thank you again for your service. You have a product that I have not been able to find, until your technicians specifically made it for us.