

Raghu Kamath

We have been using Duratherm very successfully in conducting our high-temperature tests and it has been performing remarkably well. The fluid properties are very stable and can retain/transfer heat and temperature steadily.